"Acquire the habit of speaking to God as if you were alone with Him, familiarly and with confidence and love, as to the dearest and most loving of friends. Speak to Him often of your business, your plans, your troubles, your fears of everything that concerns you. Since His delights are to be with you, let yours be found in Him." ~ St. Alphonsus Liguori

THE GOSPEL

"When he reached the place, Jesus looked up and said, "Zacchaeus, come down quickly, for today I must stay at your house."

Luke 19: 1-10

Oh stay at our house,
Jesus!

Call us by name and take time with us!

Let our hearts run over with the joy you bring,
and spread it to everyone, everywhere;
we'll gladly give it to your poor,
and to our neighbors,
as Zacchaeus finally did.

Oh, do say it to us, Lord,
that you must stay
at our house
this day—

and all days.

THE FIRST READING

"But you spare all things, because they are yours, O Lord and lover of souls."

Wisdom 11: 22– 12:2

Awesome God,

the universe is as a drop of dew for you.
so much higher you are,
so far beyond
our limits.

Yet,
you pitch

your tent among us
and dwell in our everyday.

We know you are above and beyond us.
Yet your Spirit abides in the very center of our being.

Thank you
for making your home
in the deep-down part of us.

UNVEILING THE TRUTH

The story of Zacchaeus is rich in possible interpretations.

The most popular interpretation is to view the story in terms of conversion. Here is a rich man who has not cared for the victims of poverty and injustice until his encounter with Jesus. His conversion makes a strong statement about the affluent caring for the needs of the poor.

It has also been suggested that what changed in Zacchaeus was his concern for those whom he had defrauded. He had always been generous with the poor, but now he cared about all the oppressed. In other words, his growth was from charity to justice.

Recent biblical scholarship has tended to view the story more in terms of the vindication of a person whom society considered a sinner. Everyone thought Zacchaeus was a terrible person because he collaborated, as a tax collector, with the hated occupiers. Jesus unveiled the truth about the man, who in reality was concerned for the welfare of others. The judgmental world was once again proven wrong.

Take your pick! The interpretation of your choice has enormous implications for the pursuit of a better world.

It is the duty of the whole People of God ... to alleviate as far as they are able the sufferings of the modern age. They should do this ... out of the substance of their goods, and not only out of what is superfluous.

Vatican II, Constitution on the Church in the Modern World, 1965: 88

Gerald Darring
